Local Bank Announces Million Dollar Construction Project

Long months of planning and talking climaxed recently when the FDIC gave official permission to the Board of Directors of The Elba Exchange Bank for the erection of a new bank building. The new facility is under construction on the site of the old Brunson Hotel on Collier Street.

The building will contain 11,880 square feet. It will be a one-story building, and as can be seen in the above picture, it will follow the Williamsburg design. The parking lot will have spaces for 76 automobiles.

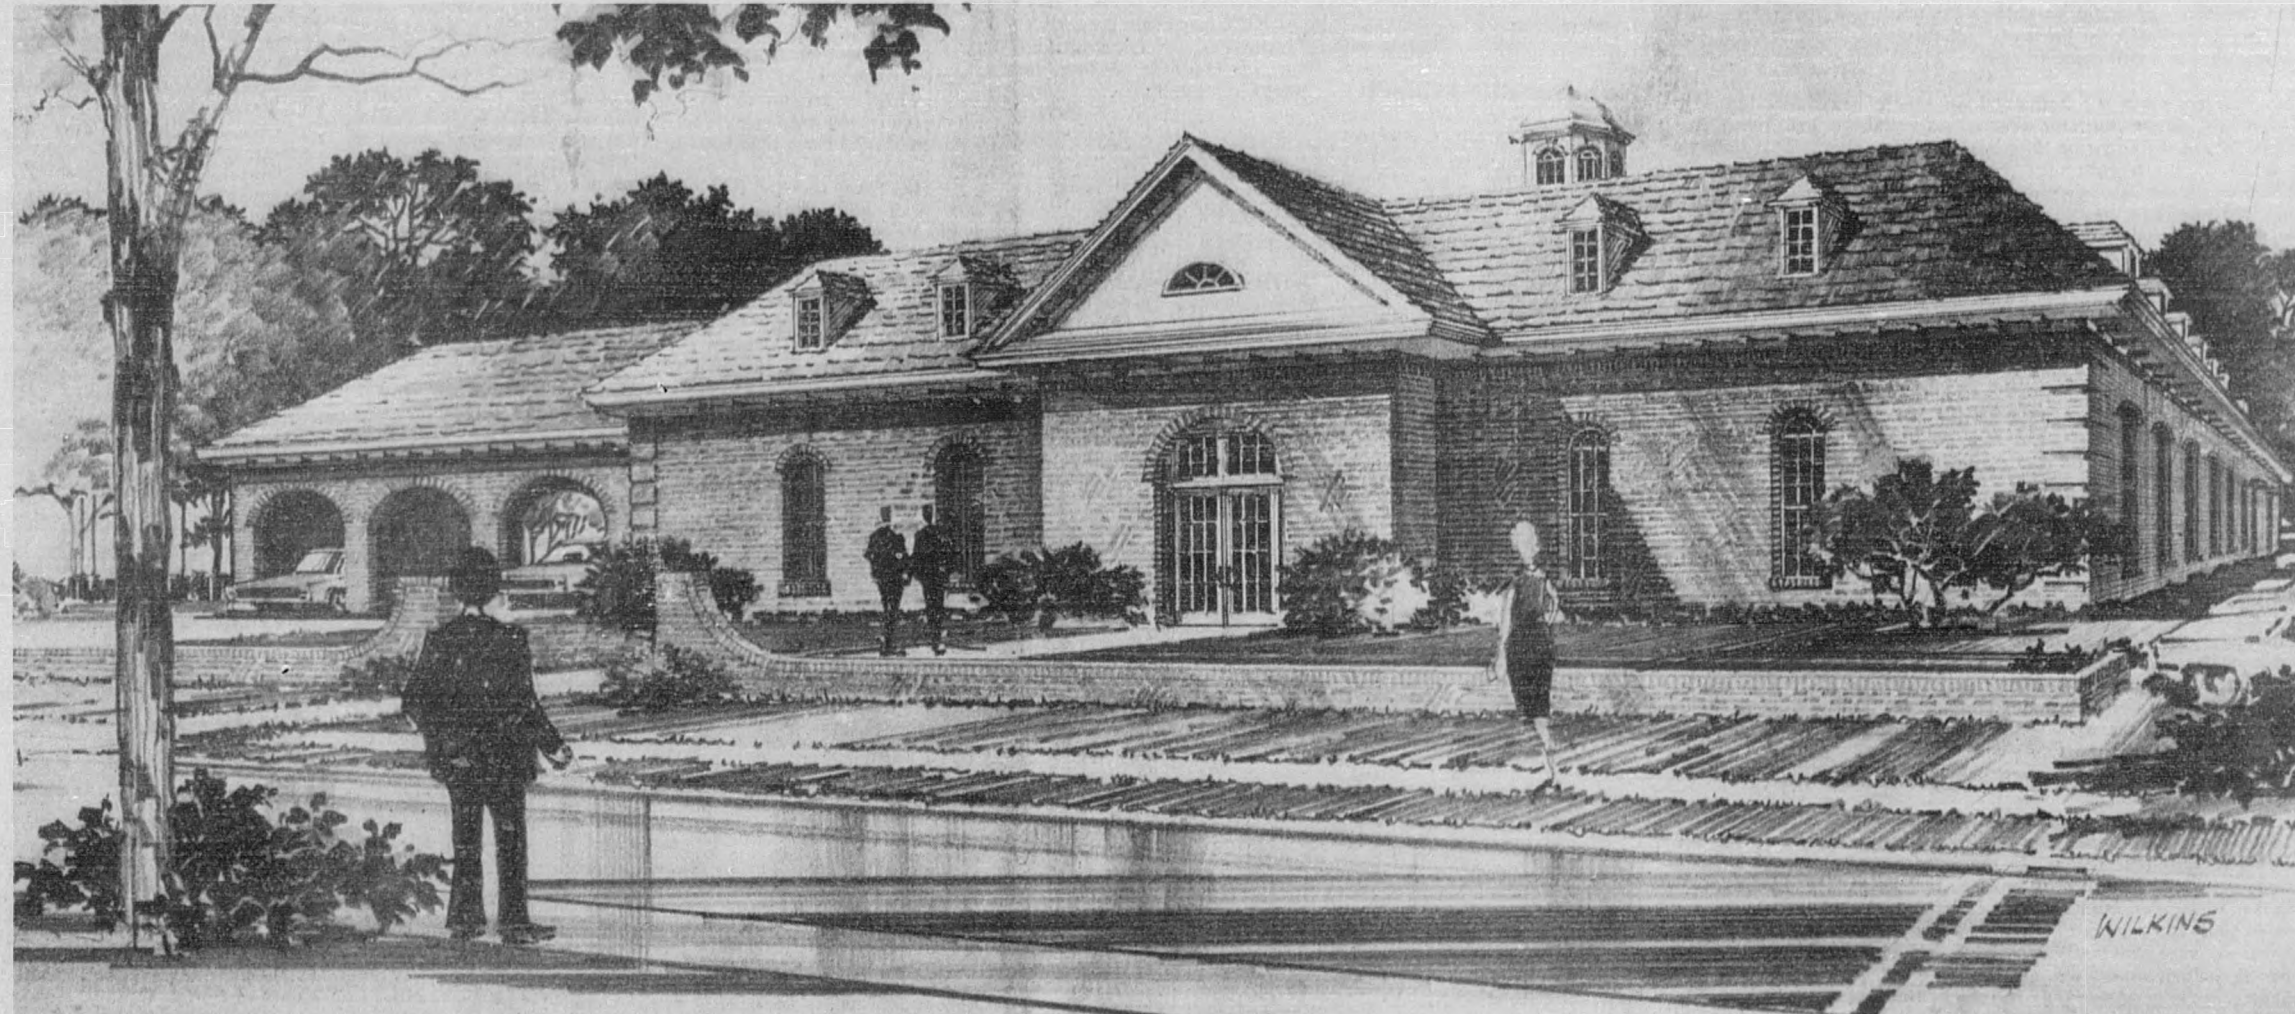

Whaley Lumber and Construction Company of Troy is building the facility on a low bid of $735,000. Add to this the cost of the specialized banking equipment and all new office furniture, and the total investment will be almost $1 million.

Bank President Oscar Vaughan, Jr. said this investment was a strong indication of the faith the bank directors had in the future of Elba and surrounding area.

Elba Exchange Bank, organized in 1938, had $4 million dollars of assets in 1965 when they occupied the present facilities. They employed a total of fourteen people at that time. Now, the bank employs 24 people and records assets in excess of 26 million dollars, an increase of about 500%.

The new facility will be occupied on or before July 1, 1980, according to Vaughan.

The inside of the facility will include 13 teller stations, six private loan offices, cashier office, small conference room, director's room and three vaults (cash vault, bookkeeping vault and note vault). There will be one drive-up window and three remote drive-ups. The lobby area will be divided into a main lobby 18 feet by 57 feet with eight paying and receiving teller positions and a bank lobby approximately 10 by 18 square feet. There will be three note-teller positions located in this area. There will be a customer relations office adjacent to the teller's area to discuss or remedy customer problems.

Employee facilities will include a combined lounge and community room, with full kitchen and chairs and tables to comfortably seat as many as 40 people. There will be five rest rooms located throughout the bank.

Elba's Dr. Donnie Smith To Set-Up Medical Practice At Kinston

Donnie grew up in a small town. That's important to him. A native of Elba, in Coffee County, he has worked to achieve a certain goal. Graduating magna cum laude from Troy State University in 1976, he is receiving his clinical training as a third-year medical student in The University of Alabama's College of Community Health Sciences. In another five years or so he will complete his residency and be ready to set up his practice.

But rather than move on to a large metropolitan area with numerous opportunities or join a glamorous medical research team, Smith plans to return to Kinston, a small town only 16 miles from his hometown. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Smith of Kinston.

Why does the Capstone medical student want to return to a rural area to practice medicine?

According to Smith, the benefits of a small town practice far outweigh the disadvantages. "Two of the main problems that most young people in a small town encounter are the lack of social contact and loneliness. Since I'm from the Kinston area and already have a wife and child, that won't be a problem for me," Smith said. "I really like being out of the city. Although I enjoy some of the finer things available in a larger town, like the symphony, the slower, relaxed atmosphere of a small town is for me."

The 25-year-old medical student was inspired to pursue a medical career by his own doctor in Elba, Dr. Bancroft Cooper. "Dr. Cooper had to treat me for a broken arm in high school, and from the association and later observations, my interest was sparked," Smith noted.

After realizing that his best grades in school were mathematics and science, he decided medicine might be a career possibility.

"I guess I started planning on going into medicine during the 11th grade," he recalled. "Of course the prestige of being a doctor was appealing, but to me the biggest factor was the personal satisfaction of striving toward a difficult goal -- from Elba all the way to medical school -- plus the added bonus of really helping others."

Realizing that he won't have the advantages of total modern medical facilities, specialists and back-up units, Smith said these are the very reasons he feels he is so needed in a rural area.

"Alabama really needs to revitalize all the rural areas that are so understaffed medically," he said. "And though some may think I'm playing the martyr by sacrificing the big money available in the city, I don't think so at all."

"Considering the difference in the cost of living in a city and a small town, things pretty well balance out. The main difference seems to be in the lifestyle and personal preference in the doctor-patient relationship. In a small town you know everyone, so it's important to like people and to have a good personality for human relations."

Smith wants to practice family medicine, but specialize in pediatrics. He feels Kinston is an ideal place for this type of practice.

Even though Kinston is not equipped with advanced medical facilities, modern facilities are nearby, Smith pointed out. "Enterprise and Andalusia are fairly large and in Opp there is a trade school which will give me a good source of nurses for my private practice.

"There's a real optimism in caring for kids because they almost always get well. Also with children you have a real hand in shaping their health. And you don't run into as many emotional and psychological problems with children. Children don't usually fake being sick and caring for them is a lot of fun," he said.

In the meantime, Smith is preparing himself for crisis times, children who bite and overprotective parents. And he is looking forward to it. He has waited a long time.

Andalusia, AL, July--Some 4,000 persons were in attendance at the 1979 annual membership meeting of Covington Electric Cooperative.

Held in the Andalusia Municipal Stadium on the evening of July 26, at which time Co-op members:

Elected two members to the Board of Trustees; received reports on Covington Electric operations, and were advised of an anticipated increase in wholesale power costs in the near future, which would necessitate higher charges to members.

Viewed a visual aid presentation which contrasted the utilization of electric service by members today with a few years ago and pointed up the impact this has had on Covington Electric operations, and received 30 attendance prizes, including a 19" color television set and two home freezers.

R. R. (Bud) Johnson, District 1, and Ken Nichols, Andalusia Rt. 8, were elected to three-year terms on the Board of Trustees, representing Districts 1 and 8, respectively.

Johnson is the incumbent Trustee for District 1. Nichols succeeds Warren Hutcheson, Red Level Rt. 1.

John Hill, Covington Electric General Manager, informed Cooperative members of an anticipated increase in wholesale power costs, which would necessitate higher charges to consumers. He estimated this would become effective by the first part of 1980, or possibly even before the end of this year.

He stated the anticipated wholesale power hike could add as much as $1 million per year to Covington Electric's costs.

In his report on 1978 operations, Hill pointed out that margins for the year--less than $12,000 on almost $8 million of revenues--were down, by more than $300,000 from 1977.

He stated this resulted primarily from two wholesale power rate increases totaling over $1 million experienced in 1978, and the fact that these increased costs were not passed along to Cooperative members on a timely basis.

Hill detailed steps Covington Electric has taken to attempt to hold down costs in those areas in which it can exercise some control. He stated that the Cooperative is operating with fewer employees than it had a year ago, and is attempting to keep expenses to the lowest level possible.

Pointing out that wholesale power costs accounted for almost 75 per cent of the total cost of operating Covington Electric's system, Hill asserted that had 1978 wholesale power costs remained level with those of 1977, less than three per cent, instead of the 20 per cent, increase actually experienced.

Hill also reported that new records were set in several areas during 1978, including power sales of over 191 million kWh, and revenues in excess of $7.9 million received from service to 514,133 consumers.

He added that Covington Electric paid over $475,000 on its loans last year, and that tax expenses reached the record level of $288,998, representing an increase of $25,528 over 1977. He also discussed system improvement work amounting to over $478,000 which was done during 1978, and advised that the Cooperative's total investment in plant was over $12.5 million.

Hill also discussed the so-called "territorial bill" legislation which had been introduced in the Alabama Legislature earlier this year, and detailed the severe adverse effects the legislation, had it been enacted, would have had on many rural electric systems.

He expressed gratification the proposal did not become law, and expressed appreciation to area legislators--including Senator Wallace Miller, of Enterprise, and Representatives Seth Hammett, of Andalusia, and Jimmy Holley, of Elba, who were present for the meeting.

Ed Short, Covington Electric Staff Assistant and Member Services Advisor, utilized visual aids to depict the dramatic change in the manner in which Cooperative members utilize their electric service today, as compared with a few years ago.

He pointed out how this change had necessitated utilization of new and improved equipment, and revised operational techniques by the Cooperative.

Short also suggested several ways in which members can effectively reduce their usage of electricity. He urged members to participate in the "Project Conserve" effort, through which all residential consumers can receive free data on methods to reduce their energy usage in their homes, along with "weatherize" cost data, and the "pay-back" time.

He reminded Covington Electric members that the Cooperative will perform free on-premise "energy audits" upon request, and that financial assistance is available to many members who wish to "weatherize" their homes.

Andalusia Mayor Chalmers Bryant spoke briefly, welcoming Co-op members and other guests to Andalusia. Rev. Fred Folks, Pastor of the Dozier Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Prior to and following the business session, the Florida Boys Quartet, of Pensacola, provided free entertainment. Each Covington Electric member registering received a light bulb free.

The Covington County Shrine Club operated concessions at the meeting.

Fourteen-year-old Jackie Archie of Opp was pronounced dead of drowning after a swimming accident at Ballard's bridge, where Highway 154 crosses the Pea River between Opp and Enterprise.

Archie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fate Archie, had been swimming with friends for about two hours when he decided to dive from the high bridge. According to witnesses' statements to Coroner Marvin McIlwain, and Coffee County Deputy Sheriff Ray Norris, he dived in about 4 o'clock and never came up.

His body was recovered about 6:30 p.m. by units of the Elba and Opp Rescue Squads. One witness reported possibly seeing the youth's feet come up after the diving incident, but no other saw this.

McIlwain ruled he died of drowning, noting there was water in his lungs. The coroner stated there was no evidence of his neck being broken, even though the water was relatively shallow for the height of the dive. McIlwain speculated the youth did hit his head on the bottom, but his death would be attributed to drowning. The body drifted 75 or 100 yards from the point of the dive when found by rescue workers.

POOR ORIGINAL

BRAINSTORMS WITH FERRIN COX

We like to read advertisements in newspapers and magazines. This week we saw an ad for a Montgomery Ward catalog with the headline including OPEC and a drawing of an Arab and the pyramids. We thought about some alert ad manager being on the ball. Well, before the day was over, a local merchant called our attention to the same ad. . . except he had read the whole thing. The pitch was for car tune-up work, etc. It noted all the gas savings associated with the five different things they could do to your car. Well, if you did the five things, it could save "possibly" over 75% of your present gas consumption (add them up - 6%, 15%, 33%, etc.) If you took their printed suggestion and added cruise control, then took the government recommendation and always drove less than 55 miles per hour, no fast acceleration, etc., by golly, we would have to take along a bucket to hold all the gas we saved, 'cause it would overflow the gas tank every 75 or 100 miles!

Last week we witnessed Charles Cole, principal of the New Brockton Elementary School, and his crew of summer youth cleaning the Elba courthouse. Now, if you know Coach Cole, you know he is b-i-g and tall. This means those youths don't give him any backtalk and work when he says work. Courthouse observers tell me it is the first time in their memory the little windows over the main doors have been cleaned! Also, after they finished, you could walk down the hall by the bathrooms and not lose your desire to breathe. All this was long overdue, and we are glad to see it come to pass.

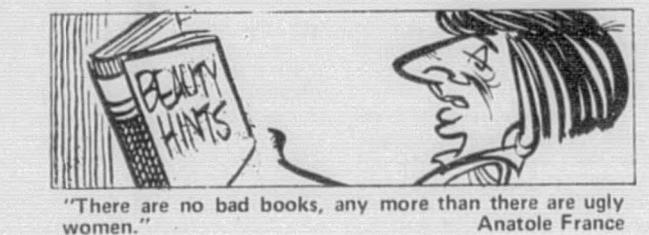

One day last week we happened up at the same meeting with Enterprise Mayor Don Donaldson. As usual we get friend Don talking about the thing he likes best - Enterprise. This time we discovered our neighboring city is well along with plans for a $650,000 recreation complex. Mayor Don expects to get a $125,000 matching grant, with the first funding scheduled right away. He reports working on this one project for three years, which is normal for getting federal grants. To be included in the project are new fields, tennis courts, fish pond, picnic areas and olympic size pool, and I don't know what-all else, but I salute their efforts, and frankly am a bit envious.

Work is underway on the new building for the Elba Exchange Bank. We look out our window occasionally and check on the builders. This will be a plus for the area, and we are looking forward to seeing them in the new building. This will also free their existing building for use as a new city hall. There nobody, but nobody, can claim a nicer city hall than Elba.

It is interesting to hear nice things about Elba and Elba people. Recently we heard of a community 100 miles away calling for advice on getting their Athletic Club better organized. They had heard that this year the Elba club was the best organized group in the state! The caller also had a copy of the bold bulletin of the Elba club, and flattered said he just knew that was a mistake. . . but it wasn't. The Elba Athletic Club has had its problems in the past with dissension and other things, but they seem to all be headed in the same direction this year, and we have been impressed ourselves with the fantastic results of such cooperation. Both the money talks and the friendly attitudes of the members, and the business folks they deal with are to be admired and cherished.

We are kinda glad to see the Coca Cola Company start selling the new drink, Mellow Yellow, in this area. All of ye old editor's family owe tea shirts urging readers to "Drink Mellow Yellow," thanks to a generous brother-in-law working for the same company in another state. Before, when we were one of the free shirts, we were constantly explaining just what the drink was and how it tasted; now, we are thinking of sending a bill for advertising to our Coca Cola friends in Dothan! (It will probably be to the attention of Marvin Lewis who took a young lady from Coffee County as his wife. . . oh well, several years ago).

Well, we have survived another session of the Alabama Legislature. Other than a sigh of relief over survival, ye old editor was not overly impressed with the session. We have heard local legislators and Governor James L. Governor McMillan, all say it was a "good" session, and we assume they, too, are glad we survived.

PASTOR'S CORNER

BY REV. WALTER KENNEY
MT. OLIVE BAPTIST CHURCH

THERE IS SOMETHING ABOUT A NAME

Behind each name there is a meaning; the name, Robert, and all its shorter forms, mean "bright." Keith has the basic meaning, "the wind;" Alice means "truth." Names in Biblical times were of great significance.

Consider the name, Abraham. The name literally means "Father of Many Nations," and that meaning was in reality a prophecy, which became a fact, for the religious of many nations look back to Abraham as their forefather. His son, Isaac, meaning "laughter," was named thus because his mother laughed at the promise of her giving Abraham a son in her old age. Another interesting name is one of Isaac's sons, Jacob, which means a "supplanter." Remember, he was the twin brother of Esau, and was born holding onto Esau's heel. Jacob's early life was characterized by his name; he was a "supplanter" or a "deceiver" (Gen. 27:19). But then his name was changed by God to Israel, "ruling with God."

The fourth son of Jacob was Judah, meaning "praise," for Leah, his mother, said, "Now will I praise The Lord." The tribe of Judah was a praise such men as David, the greatest of Israel's kings, whose name means "beloved." Also, from Judah, was one, Jesus, the father of David, whose name reminds us that "God exists."

Then, out of this Davidic line came the one Jesus, meaning "Saviour," and He is, Jesus has fulfilled his name as the Saviour, and added to that name is the title, The Christ, "God's Anointed." Now we know Him as Jesus Christ, "God's Anointed Saviour."

Now those who follow Him are called by the name, Christian, "belonging to Christ." Think about it! Does our name really belong to Christ? Do you really belong to Him?

Zion Chapel Circle Meets

Well, spring has come and gone, and summer is on its way. We've had our good times and also our bad times. But God has been good to us and we thank Him.

Our Circle met in M. and June, and we had Mr. Jerril fellowship together. We spent the day at Hebron Church, and helped the ladies quilt a quilt for their pastor and his wife. They had helped us quilt one for our pastor and wife.

We had a wonderful meal at noon. Mrs. Raburn gave the devotion and Rev. Raburn graced the table. Everyone enjoyed the day.

May 17, at Zion Chapel a chicken fry at Zion Chapel Church with each lady bringing a covered dish. There were 25 present, the food was delicious and the fellowship was great. Brother Sunday graced the table and welcomed all, especially our visitors from the other churches. Brother Raburn, from Hebron Church, brought the devotion. He told the story of Moses.

With Ricky Mulaz, Sports Editor

The city softball seasons are over and all that is left are the league tournaments. It's been a good summer of softball in Elba, with plenty of action and good sportsmanship. There were a few minor incidents in both of the leagues, but I think it was the best summer ever!

I talked with Coach Wood on Monday and he is ready to get started! He reported the team had worked hard on conditioning and all the players were in good shape and ready to go. Practice starts in pads on Thursday, and I'll wait and go out there to watch 'em knock heads.

Enterprise has received a huge federal grant to construct a recreation complex and I've heard they're really going to build a fancy place. Meanwhile, Dothan and Geneva are continuing to work on new recreation facilities, while Luverne's new park opened this summer.

What's wrong here? We've got a council that won't bite the bullet and admit we need an entirely new recreation center. We've got a super recreation director, but he needs help!

So long . . .

Elba Tigers To Start Fall Football Practice

Elba High Coach Mack Wood reports that football practice will officially start on Monday, August 6, at 3:00 p.m. with 50 players expected. "We'll start out practicing one day," said Coach Wood, "and it depends on how well we progress whether or not we'll have two-a-day drills. Our summer program was a little above average, and most of the boys worked out in one way or another. We never know what kind of summer program we had until fall practice starts."

"We've got 4 weeks until our first game," added Wood, "and only two weeks will really be in hard work. The first three days we have to go out and work on conditioning and drills. The Tigers' first game is August 31 at home, against Brundidge."

FISHIN' TIPS

from . . . Tom Mann

Today we're going to talk about the base of all fishermen who use a levelhead, red, a get hold of that "V" and pull it $666X+11 backhush. You can spend hours picking out one, if you don't know how, so let's talk about how to go about it.

A backhush, in simple terms, is your not stopping the reel when the line stops pulling on the line. An over-reel, really, so adjust the braking mechanism on your reel so that the spool stops when the line quits pulling. This helps prevent over-reels.

However, when you get a $666X+11 backhush, and all of us, here's what to do. Nothing. Look at it carefully. Locate the line coming from your reel tip and pull, don't jerk, on it.

Note the "V" it makes in one loop of line on the spool. Okay, get hold of that "V" and pull it free. Don't pull loose any loops of line that aren't the "V" holding the running line.

Take your time and work out these "V's" one at a time until you have unspooled your backhush. An excellent tool for this is one of those little curve-tip finger-and-thumb clippers that come on some pocket knives. And if it's a really bad $666X+11 backhush, use the blade on your knife and cut it out.

When going to fish in a remote spot, let someone know where to find you in case you get into trouble. This could save you a lot of discomfort, even your life.

Norman-Bozeman Marriage

Mr. & Mrs. Bozeman

Personal

Mrs. Rick Waters and Daniel have returned to their home in Enterprise after spending several days in Baltimore, Maryland, visiting Mrs. Waters' husband, Rick, who is with the National Guard at Aberdeen Proving Center. Mrs. Waters is the former Carla Bowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lee of Elba.

Miss Lynne Ellen Norman, daughter of Mr. Richard Moody Norman of Birmingham and Mrs. William G. Bailey of Berry, and Robin Alan Bozeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon L. Bozeman of Elba, were united in marriage at 7:00 on Friday evening, July 20. The wedding, directed by Mrs. Charles Hayes III and Mrs. Philip Scarborough, was solemnized on the shaded back lawn of the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Deal.

As the guests arrived, they were registered by Miss Katrina Hayes. Dr. Judson Vaughan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Elba, officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Kimmy Dorsey, organist, and Miss Lynn Hudson, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with ferns and pink calladiums centered with a heart-shaped candleburn bearing lighted tapers and an arrangement of daisies tied with pink satin bows.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a wedding gown of white silk organza designed with an empire bodice. The gown featured a yoke of re-embroidered Alcon lace, short sleeves and a high neckline. A deep ruffle border the hem of the A-line skirt and short train. Her cathedral length mantilla veil was re-embroidered to match the gown. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, centered with a pink orchid, and tied with pink satin ribbon. Miss Melissa Norman served as her sister's maid of honor. Other attendants were bridesmaids, Miss Melanie Scarborough and Miss Rachelle Bozeman, sister of the groom. Their dresses were of pink organza, fashioned with a ruffled hem line and short caplet of the same material. They carried nosegays of pink and white daisies. The flower girl, Shea Chancellor, cousin of the groom, wore a dress of pink crepe with a dainty lace and scattered pink petals from a white wicker basket.

The groom's father served as his best man. Groomsmen were Winston Westbrook and Donald Miller. The ring bearer, Jack Beasley Windham III, cousin of the bride, carried a white pillow fashioned by the bride's paternal great-grandmother Moody.

The bride's mother and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Lee, entertained the guests at a reception in the home of the bride's grandparents. The reception rooms were graced with floral arrangements by Mrs. Tim Miller and Mrs. Robert Cooper. Presiding over the serving table were Misses Suzi Brunson, Renita Bozeman, Katrina Hayes and Rhonda Bozeman.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Noah Norman of Trussville, and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Cliff Presnal of Andalusia.

The couple will reside in Enterprise where the bride will attend the State Junior College and continue working with Dorsey Trailers.
